JUNIOR HIGH ADDITION TAKES SHAPE—Construction on the new addition to the Harrisburg Junior high school has progressed to the point where the completed structure may be visualized. Above is a view looking northeast from the Junior high playground, showing the southern end of the gymnasium and the little theatre and instrumental music rooms facing Webster street. The partially completed walls joining the existing Junior high building will house the cafeteria, domestic science room, nurses headquarters, manual arts shops and a room for exceptional mental students on the ground floor, with the library to occupy the top floor. The building will connect with the old Junior high building at various levels. Below is a view looking southeast at Church and Webster showing the music room at the right, the roof of the gymnasium in the background. The inset at the front of the gymnasium will have entrances, coaches room, equipment room and concession room on the first level, and the art department on the upper level. The Hunt Construction Co. of Mt. Vernon has the general contract, Harrisburg Electric Co. the electrical and LeTemp of Harrisburg the plumbing and heating. R. D. Brown of Harrisburg is the architect. Chicago Dentist, Mother, Child Bitten; Emergency is Declared

CHICAGO (AP) — A public emergency was declared today after a rabid dog bit a dentist, a mother and her child in the second spectacular mad dog attack in 16 hours.

Meanwhile, health authorities searched for victims of the first attack, in which 16 persons were bitten by a single dog, and warned they face a "horrible, anguished death" unless they are treated.

Sheriff John Babb declared the emergency and ordered his men "to capture or destroy" every stray dog in quarantined areas of Cook County, which includes Chicago and many suburbs.

Neglected Wife Admits Poisoned Candy Given 21

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The tearful, "socially neglected" wife of a Sunday school superintendent was held in jail today as the sender of poisoned candy that made 21 persons violently ill.

Meanwhile, health authorities searched for victims of the first attack, in which 16 persons were bitten by a single dog, and warned they face a "horrible, anguished death" unless they are treated.

Sheriff John Babb declared the emergency and ordered his men "to capture or destroy" every stray dog in quarantined areas of Cook County, which includes Chicago and many suburbs.

Ask Housewives to Refrain from Using Bleach in Water

Amos Doom, water superintendent, today asked housewives to refrain from using bleaches in their washings unless absolutely necessary because of manganese and iron content that is currently in the city water supply.

He said clothing is liable to get spots if put in water containing bleach.

Doom explained that during the recent pumping of water into the reservoir, water with manganese and iron content went into the city supply. He said that after a while it will settle and the water will be all right but that so far it isn't for use of bleach.

He added that the department is trying to eliminate the heavy content with treatment of the water and he believes it will be over come.

Mine Fire in Pennsylvania Threat to Homes

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP) — Owners and residents of 300 buildings waited apprehensively today as a four-man board representing federal and state agencies, the community and a mining company studied ways to combat a mine fire which threatened the welfare of 1,200 persons.

The 14-year-old fire, eating away at three of the first anthracite veins in northeastern Pennsylvania, already has sickened and made ill scores of residents by carbon monoxide and coal gas fumes.

The four-man group, in an effort to find the core of the smoldering mine, has directed planned drillings along a "fire front" on Carbon-dale's West Side and what they find will determine future methods of fighting the blaze.

While the drilling proceeded, residents of the area mullied over the question of what to do if a plan to strip mine the area is carried out.

This would mean the razing of 300 buildings, and the eviction of an estimated 1,200 persons from their homes.

Most adopted a phlegmatic attitude and decided to "wait and see." But all feared more fumes would seep from the underground fire and fill their homes.

"The 'renters' already have moved from the fire area," one resident said. "But the people who own their homes — they just have to wait."

Receives Eye Injury

Walter Coker, 1204 South Jackson, was taken to the Barnes hospital in St. Louis yesterday morning for an emergency eye operation after a piece of steel became imbedded in his eye while he was repairing an automobile.

Coker is employed as a mechanic with the Sahara Coal company.

Sen. Anderson Challenges Butter Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) today challenged the legality of the government's high-price butter-buying program.

Pressure was mounting on Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson to do something, and fast, to put butter on American dinner tables at low prices. President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday with considerable feeling that he wants butter prices cut.

Anderson, a former agriculture secretary, said he is seeking a legal opinion on whether the government can chop its support prices now.

Besides that, Anderson said, "I doubt if the secretary has the authority to continue buying butter now at this high price." He quoted the law which specifies that butter and other dairy commodities shall be supported at not more than 90 per cent nor less than 75 per cent of the parity price, as the secretary determines necessary in order to assure an adequate supply.

Prices Effective for Year

Anderson said, "I think the law means what it says — 'adequate' supplies, not burdensome supplies."

Benson established the present support levels — 67 cents a pound, 90 per cent of parity — last April 1 and declared them effective for one year. He has said he doubts his conscience will let him keep them high beyond this April.

Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee asserted Benson is "ethically" and "morally" bound to keep the price at its present high level until April. Aiken said Benson might be able "legally" to back down now, but he believes the secretary would not try it. But Thye said Benson has no legal authority to cut the price now.

Gov. Stratton Abandons Caravan Plan

Says Unworkable Because of Too Many Candidates

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton today abandoned his "caravan" plan for having all Republican candidates for statewide offices in the April 13 primary election campaign the state together.

The commission said the work of the Voice of America and other overseas information agencies was "largely offset, if not destroyed" by congressional investigations last year. It noted the information program was investigated by McCarthy's group and a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, and suggested it "has a chance to prove itself."

"I know we scared hell out of a few Commies and demoralized them," McCarthy declared of his investigation. "I don't mind demoralizing the Communist Party."

But Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), a member of the foreign relations subcommittee, agreed with the commission's complaint. And Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, called the commission's report important.

McCarthy's investigation, which erupted into a "book burning" controversy over allegedly pro-Communist volumes in U. S. overseas libraries, attracted most attention last year.

The commission said "some of the investigations" produced "unfavorable impressions abroad" among the very persons U. S. propaganda was aimed at.

"How can we expect them to have any confidence in an agency which does not enjoy the confidence of those responsible government officials who seem constantly to be attacking it?" it asked.

State Library Lists 'Pilgrim's Progress', Fairy Tales for Adults

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The words "this book is for adult readers" have been stamped in red ink across state library copies of "Pilgrim's Progress" and fairy tales by Hans Christian Andersen, it was reported today.

They were among dozens of books given a "red flag" in a campaign by Secretary of State Charles Carpenter to "make it impossible for school children to obtain smut."

The list also included Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," "Jane Eyre," "Wuthering Heights," "The Good Earth," "The Girl of the Golden West," and others, it was reported.

The stampings meant that community libraries throughout Illinois, which obtain books from the big state collection, will not be given the marked books unless an adult reader submits a request to read them.

A spokesman for the secretary of state's office admitted that "Wonder Stories Told for Children" and "Stories for Children" by Andersen, long dead Danish story teller, had been stamped.

But he said it was only done through an error and indicated the classification might be removed.

Earlier Carpenter had ordered all books "relating to sex" withdrawn from circulation after a mother protested about a novel her daughter checked out of a local library.

He later accused his staff of career workers in the state library of trying to make him look "ridiculous" by carrying out his order with undue zeal. He said a new plan, that of restricting objectionable material to adults, would be used.

Wednesday evidently was the first day of the plan. News men learned that employees were busy going through the library stacks, wielding the red ink stamps.

John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" was among the books stamped.

Miley Seeks Air Force Academy For This Area

Robert G. Miley, chairman of the Saline County Republican Central committee who is superintendent of Parks and Memorials at Springfield, today said in a telephonic conversation with The Daily Register that he is receiving calls from this area regarding the possibility of securing the proposed Air Force academy for this area and that he has contacted U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen and Cong. C. W. "Runt" Bishop about the matter.

A telegram he received in reply from Cong. Bishop declared "Air Force Academy Bill HR 5337 passed the House January 21. Now pending Senate Armed Services committee. Possible hearings this month. Your congressional office has called to attention of Air Force possibilities for location 25th Congressional district. Congratulations on your interest."

Miley said that he would continue efforts with influential parties in Washington to try to get the proposed academy for this area.

A news dispatch in yesterday's metropolitan newspapers quoted Bishop as saying he was trying to get the academy for the Crab Orchard Lake area.

McCarthy Brushes Aside Charge of Hampering U. S. Propaganda Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today brushed aside a charge that congressional investigators hampered American propaganda efforts abroad and declared "We scared hell out of a few Commies."

The Wisconsin Republican appeared unimpressed by the complaint fired by a presidential commission. He said his Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee would take a new look at the overseas information agency soon.

The commission said the work of the Voice of America and other overseas information agencies was "largely offset, if not destroyed" by congressional investigations last year. It noted the information program was investigated by McCarthy's group and a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, and suggested it "has a chance to prove itself."

"I know we scared hell out of a few Commies and demoralized them," McCarthy declared of his investigation. "I don't mind demoralizing the Communist Party."

Believes Would Limit Power Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said today he opposes the George substitute for the Bricker amendment because "it runs the risk of taking away some of the powers of the President."

Brownell referred to the Democratic George provision which would require congressional approval before executive agreements could become domestic law.

He told a news conference this provision appears to limit the power of the President "as commander-in-chief and as President to do certain things that have the effect of internal law."

Brownell said he would have "no objection" to a simple constitutional amendment which merely made clear that a treaty or executive agreement cannot conflict with the Constitution.

The George amendment was submitted by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.). Sen. John W. Bricker (Ohio) submitted the Republican amendment to restrict the treaty-making powers of the President.

Predicts Substitute Will Win

There is also a GOP substitute for the Bricker amendment. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland predicted it would win out over the Democratic plan.

However, final Senate approval would require a two-thirds vote and even Knowland wasn't ready to say his substitute proposal would make the grade.

George predicted a "majority of the Democrats" will support his proposal. He refused to say how well it would fare.

But he said flatly that the chances of any proposal clearing the two-thirds vote hurdle are "very slim" unless the unexpected happens and some of the rival factions get together at the last minute on a "reasonable compromise."

Basically, the Republican formula would merely make it clear that treaties and international agreements are invalid if in conflict with the Constitution.

But the George substitute goes further by requiring congressional legislation before any international agreements become domestic law. Bricker wanted to extend this to cover treaties as well. And McCarran wanted to guarantee states the right to veto provisions affecting strictly state matters.

Other congressional news:

Postage: The House Post Office Committee voted to hike postage on out-of-town first class mail from 3 to 4 cents an ounce. The boost would add about 150 million dollars a year to postal revenues.

Alaska: The Senate Interior Committee voted 14-1 to admit Alaska to the Union. It previously approved a Hawaiian statehood bill. Democrats will try to merge the two bills on the Senate floor. The administration favors the Hawaiian bill but not the Alaskan measure.

Taxes: Rep. Herman P. Eberhart (D-Pa.) said Treasury experts figure the administration's tax bill would cost $2,914,500,000 a year in federal revenue. Their estimate, Eberhart said, is more than twice that of their boss, Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, who had said the loss would be only about $1,200,000,000.

Butter: Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D-Iowa) urged the administration to come up with legislation for a stamp plan to get rid of butter and other food surpluses by giving them to the needy. Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson meanwhile told Congress the administration is determined to cut farm support prices generally at the end of the year. But he promised that the cuts would be gradual and gentle, not sudden and sharp.

Mother, Four Children Seek $17,000 in Suit

A woman and her four minor children seek $17,500 from five liquor stores in a circuit court complaint which declares they were deprived of their means of support when W. P. Milligan, the husband and father, was sent off to the state farm at Vandalia.

In a complaint filed for them by Atty. L. R. Lightfoot, Mrs. Clara Milligan and the children, Donald Ray, 13, Caroline Sue, 7, Wanda Lou, 6, and Sharon Lee, 3, each asks $2,500 actual damages and $1,000 punitive damages from the following:

Gratton J. Logsdon, doing business as The Hub at Ridgway; William J. Misdarffer, doing business as The Palace at Ridgway; Carl Buser, doing business as Buser's package store in Stonefort township; Dave Evans, doing business as Dave's package store in Stonefort township; Russell Ashford, doing business as the Little Egypt package store in Stonefort township.

The complaint charges that on Nov. 21, 1953, Milligan obtained from the defendants liquor which he drank and which made him intoxicated.

It says that Milligan the same day was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and illegal transportation of liquor. He was sentenced to a year on the state farm and assessed fines and costs totalling $528.90, to be worked out at $1.50 a day if not paid by the end of the term. That, the complaint points out, would mean 717 days on the farm.

Charles Dee Barrett Seeks Republican Nomination for Sheriff

Charles Dee Barrett, who resides with his wife at 521 West Lincoln avenue in Harrisburg, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff in the April primary election.

Barrett, a Republican worker for years, for the past eight years has served as committeeman in Harrisburg Precinct 3 and has served as GOP township chairman during two successful Republican campaigns.

He is a member of McKinley Avenue Baptist church, where he teaches a Bible class, and belongs to the Masonic and I. O. O. F. lodges.

Barrett is a union man, belonging to Local Union 359 of the Operative Plasterers and Cement Masons International association.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Brazilian Farmers Don't Profit
By Coffee Climbs: "A" Battery
Discovery Dazzles Scientific World; Ike Gets Laugh Out Of Veteran's Anecdote.

WASHINGTON. — An important thing to remember about the dizzy climb in coffee prices is that the profits from the price climb are not going to farmers in Brazil, most of whom have been seriously hurt by the frost that ravaged their crop and induced the coffee shortage.

Nor is the price increase due to any market manipulation by the Brazilian government, as its minister of foreign relations, Vicente Rao, made unmistakably clear in a recent letter to the Washington Post.

As usual, the profits are being soaked up chiefly by distributors, roasters, and speculating middlemen, who deal in coffee futures.
Another important thing to remember, before we start pointing an accusing finger at Brazil, is that by far the greater portion of our huge spending for coffee stays right in the United States.

A Senate Agriculture subcommittee, headed by Sen. Guy Gillette of Iowa, heard some impressive testimony on this subject four years ago that might well apply to the situation today. Andres Uribe, acting chairman of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau, testified that the United States annually spends more than $2,000,000,000 in coffee trade.

Of this amount, 62 per cent remains in the United States and is shared by brokers (speculators), importers, roasters, retailers, stevedores, salesmen, etc. The remaining 38 per cent goes to the producing countries, including Brazil.

The year before, late in 1949, middlemen speculators had made a killing when coffee prices skyrocketed. Uribe disclosed that Brazilian producers, the great majority of whom are small farmers, didn't benefit from the market upturn, having already disposed of their coffee crop in July, 1949.

"And the farmer gets paid for it then—in July?" inquired George Aiken of Vermont.

"Yes, they get paid when they give the coffee to the second handler," replied Uribe.

"Then the coffee was out of the farmer's hands before the rise in price started in November?" asked Aiken.

Uribe replied that practically all Brazilian farmers had sold their coffee by that time and "naturally did not get any of the rise." The same is true today.

NEW "A" BATTERY

Atomic scientists are more excited about the new "atomic battery" than anything that's happened since Hiroshima. In contrast to that first explosion, which made many scientists dread for the future, the new A-battery has given them fresh hope that mankind will eventually reap the untapped benefits of atomic power.

Here is what one scientist said:
"With this discovery it now seems certain we'll be able to develop atom-powered automobiles and airplanes. It's probably much cheaper and more efficient. This is what we've been looking for."

Don't be surprised if it takes us literally and figuratively — to the moon.

"The discovery is really too physically small to talk about but the idea behind it is almost too big to think about. This is one of the few new developments that will identify our century to future historians and even school children.
Hundreds of years from now children will learn about the development of peaceful atomic power in 1954."

"This is absolutely certain—unless, through an atomic war, there are no children."

RCA, developer of the new direct-conversion system, kept its progress highly secret and only a handful of the nation's scientists knew about it. Most were as startled as the public when RCA Chairman David Sarnoff made the announcement that electricity could be produced directly from radioactive material without using any moving parts.

Until this announcement, scientists have produced atom-powered electricity only through a complex system involving an atomic pile, steam, turbines, and dynamos.

Though still in its infancy, this revolutionary discovery is regarded as one of the greatest milestones in scientific history.

IKE LAUGHS

When the President is really amused, he is apt to rear back, slap his knee, and let go with a guffaw. Such a knee-slapper was told him recently by Harold Russell, star of the movie "The Best Years of Our Lives," now an official of the World Veterans Federation. Back in 1947, when "Best Years" opened in Washington, there was a big reception. Russell said, at which he and other stars were supposed to shake hands, Russell had to forego this, having lost both arms in World War II, but he had an interesting chat with a "very attractive lady" about the readjustment problems of returning vets.

"Somehow or other, we weren't introduced," Russell told Eisenhower, "but she was the kind of person that you like to talk to,
with or without a formal introduction. I had a vague recollection of having seen her picture in the papers and later she became famous, but right then—well, you know how things are in Washington, Mr.
President."

"We got to talking about the war vets, like myself, who came back with arms or legs missing. I remarked that there was one boy who wouldn't forget the men in the ranks of all services, after the hands stopped playing. The lady asked me to name him and I said, General Eisenhower."

"I went on to say that I knew of no military leader who had won the respect and affection of so many of our boys. To which the lady replied: 'You know, I feel the same way about him. I'm Mrs. Eisenhower.'"

After the President stopped laughing he observed:
"No military commander should receive praise for showing an understanding of men under him.
That's part of his job."

Companies, Bloomington, Ill., stated today. State Farm Mutual has made no request for a rate increase. No change of any kind in

22 Ex-IH Workers Sue Union Officials For $471,520

CHICAGO. — Twenty-two former employees of the International Harvester Co. East Moline, Ill., plant, laid off late last year, today filed a $471,520 suit against nine officials of the Farm Equipment United Electrical Workers, charging them with unlawfully deprived of their jobs.

Two of the men were laid off last August, four in September and the rest in October, during a period which saw employment at the plant, according to the plain-tiff's attorneys, shrink from 3,000 to 600 men.

The suit was filed under an Illinois law designed to ban interference with a man's occupation.
In it, the 22 charged the defendants had conspired illegally to deprive them of seniority by representing to the employer that they had lost seniority.

The dispute between the union and the men, who had been shop stewards, stemmed from rivalry between the FEUE and the CIO United Auto Workers, according to attorneys here. They said the plaintiffs had decided to pull out of the FEUE because they believed it was dominated by leftwingers, and because they were dissatisfied with the functions of the union.

Named as defendants were Donald Milton Burns, Chicago, president of the Farm Equipment Workers Harvester conference board, and eight officials of Local 104 of the union.

The Farm Equipment Workers and a United Electrical Workers union were expelled by the CIO some years ago because their leaderships allegedly followed a Communist line. Suit was filed in Cook County Circuit Court.

Vogeler Files $500,000 Suit Against Company

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert A. Vogeler says the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. knew he would be subject to "grave personal hazard and risk" when it assigned him to negotiate with the Communist government of Hungary in 1948.

Vogeler filed a $500,000 suit against his former employer in New York Supreme Court Wednesday as a result of his imprisonment for 17 months in Hungary.

The company has denied any negligence or liability in the case and claims that any injury suffered by Vogeler was the result of acts by the Hungarian government.

Vogeler's complaint said the company failed to warn him of the personal danger involved when he undertook negotiations with the Hungarian government as a vice president of the Standard Electric Co., an IT&T subsidiary.

Pope Deluged With 'Sure Cures' For His Hiccups

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII was deluged with suggestions of "sure cures" for hiccups today. Ever since it became known that the Pontiff was suffering loss of sleep due to hiccups during his present illness, hundreds of letters have poured in to the Vatican.

They have come from every continent and most of the countries on earth. Each suggested hiccup remedy was guaranteed by its sponsor as an "absolutely sure" cure.

The remedies suggested have ranged from the use of wonder drugs with tongue-twisting names to the simple suggestion to "eat" chocolate ice cream.

The latter proposal came from an unidentified Englishman. One remedy from America where a large number originated, said the Pope undoubtedly could be cured by listening to someone count to five hundred in a strange language.

This cure would be difficult, since the Pope speaks English, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and Latin fluently. He also understands some Dutch and Scandinavian.

Another American, whose name was withheld, suggested this:

"Press your right ear with your left hand and at the same time drink a large glass of water without breathing. Your hiccups will disappear instantly."

The wahoo fish can swim as fast as 70 miles per hour.

Christian Missionary Guild Has Covered-Dish Dinner

The February meeting of the Missionary Guild of the First Christian church was held Monday night. Mrs. John Fuller and Mrs. Jack Jackson were hostesses for the 6:30 p. m. covered-dish dinner, featuring Spanish rice.

Following the dinner Mrs. Frank Patterson, guild president, conducted a brief business session and urged cooperation in the "Twelve Weeks for Christ" crusade now in progress by the members of the church. Members were reminded that during the crusade all meetings held in connection with any of the church program will be opened by reciting in unison 1st Corinthians 2:2.

Mrs. Jesse Stunson led the devotion period, based upon charitable love, using 1st Corinthians, the 13th chapter.

An interesting lesson period was held by Mrs. William Sloan Jr., who told of missions of the Disciples of Christ among the people of Mexico, especially mentioning Nogales and Pabello. She was assisted by Mrs. Clarence Aldridge, Mrs. George McNab, and Miss Gladys Caley in presenting an inspiring service "Doing the Works of God" which had been especially prepared for women's groups by Miss Luisa Garcia, a Mexican Christian.

Following the benediction a brief social session was held at which time articles donated by Mrs. Fuller were auctioned.

Mrs. George Rees, assisted by Mrs. William Epperheimer, will be hostess to the March meeting of the guild.

In addition to those mentioned, the following were present: Mrs. Harold Empson, Mrs. Joe Harris, Mrs. Cecil Harris, Mrs. Alonzo Shevake Jr., Mrs. Stanley Wilson, Mrs. Ross Abby, Mrs. Glen Daugherty, Mrs. Bernice McMahon and Mrs. Orville Schureman.

New Sanity Hearing for Hitch-Hike Slayer

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—A new sanity hearing for Curtis Chapman, White House, who was convicted of a hitch-hike murder and sentenced to death, will be held in Randolph County Court Monday afternoon.

State's Atty. William A. Schuerk filed a petition for the hearing Wednesday afternoon. An earlier Macon County Circuit Court hearing found Chapman sane but an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court resulted in an order for a new trial.

Chapman, 21, and Carson Seger, 22, Alton, were convicted of the murder of Howard Heininger, Jerseyville, in 1949 after he picked them up as they hitch-hiked near Carrollton.

Seger is confined to the Illinois Security Hospital here and Chapman had been in the Menard Penitentiary death house since May 25, 199, until last August when he was moved to the prison hospital for treatment of stomach trouble.

Prison authorities have told Schuerk they doubt whether Chapman is sane. If found insane, Chapman would be transferred to the Security Hospital and his death sentence would be suspended.

Advertising Practices Studied By Justice Dep't

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said today the Justice Department is making a broad "study" of advertising practices to determine whether they constitute a violation of anti-trust laws.

Brownell told a news conference the study "does not mean that any action will follow." He said it stemmed from a similar anti-trust investigation some years ago of uniform commission rates charged by some real estate brokers.

He indicated the anti-trust division is particularly interested in the system of charging commissions by advertising agencies. On other subjects:

He was asked about the decision of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Norwalk, Conn., to send information on subversives to the FBI and whether this encouraged "malicious gossip?" Brownell said the FBI welcomed any facts about subversive activities from individuals and organizations, but did not "want malicious gossip, rumors or unsubstantial evidence in the files of the government... we want hard facts."

Brownell said the Justice Department is participating in the government study into the possibility of breaking down the reasons for the firing of 2,200 government workers under the new security program. He declined further comment.

Employment at Joppa Plant at All-Time High

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Employment at the Joppa electric power plant has reached an all-time high of 2,800 workers.

Robert Mitchell, employee relations director of Bechtel Inc., contractors on the job, said in a talk here 84.6 per cent of the workers at the job live within 60 miles of the plant in southern Illinois.

Mitchell said the No. 1 and 2 units of the plant are complete and supply 317,000 kilowatts of power to the Atomic Energy Commission plant at Kevil, Ky., across the Ohio river. He said Unit 3 will be complete in April and No. 4 will be finished in June.

Construction on two remaining units is 95 per cent complete. When in full operation the plant will supply 937,000 kilowatts of power to the AEC plant at Kevil. It will use 10,000 tons of coal a day, or 3,500,000 tons annually, which will increase the market for coal mined in southern Illinois and Kentucky.

Ex-Marine Stabs Self While Ex-Girl Friend Looks On

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 29-year-old ex-Marine, who spent some time in Japan, was reported "holding his own" today after slashing his abdomen while his horrified ex-girl friend looked on.

Police identified the wounded veteran as Richard Earley. He was confined late Wednesday night in Lakeside Hospital where he was rushed to surgery following his bizarre, hara-kiri-like act on the doorstep of Miss Yolanda J. Bazzo's apartment building.

Miss Bazzo, who said she had been "going steady" with Earley until about five weeks ago when he beat her up following an argument, told police he telephoned her late Wednesday and said: "I'll be over later; look out your front window."

Miss Bazzo was called to the door when Earley rang, only to see him plunge the 14-inch blade of an oriental-style knife into his abdomen, police said. Later, officers found a suicide note in his room.

Wife Offering to Sell Mate Gets Replies, Mostly from Men

KENTWOOD, La. (AP)—The woman who offered in an anonymous classified ad to sell her husband for $75,000 has received replies from all over the nation—mostly from men.

So far only one woman has made a counter offer through the weekly newspaper here in which the Kentwood housewife placed the ad because, it said, her husband is a "poor provider."

This was an offer of $5,000 with a demand for a "money-back guarantee."

Editor Ted Huser said a Monroe, La., man wanted to meet "the lady that offers to pay $5,000 sight unseen for a husband," while offers to take the low bidders came from men in Louisville, Ky.; Portland, Ore.; and Bridgeport, Conn.

An Evansville, Ind., husband objected to a husband's being priced so high. "I like coffee," said his wife "would gladly sell me for 50 cents."

Federal Jury Recesses Indefinitely After Labor Investigation

EAST ST. LOUIS (AP)—A federal grand jury investigating labor racketeering in the eastern district of Illinois recessed indefinitely Wednesday after an initial three-day session.

U. S. Atty. Clifford Raemer declined to reveal when the grand jury will be recalled, or to discuss any other aspect of the investigation.

The jury heard a number of witnesses, mostly contractors, during its first session.

AFL Proposes $1.25 Per Hour Minimum Wage

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—The American Federation of Labor placed its proposal for a hike of the national minimum wage to $1.25 per hour before Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today.

Mitchell met behind closed doors with the 13-member AFL Executive Council for the fourth session of its 10-day annual conference here. The council also planned to meet today with Giulio Pastore, head of the Free Labor Movement in Italy, to discuss the critical government situation in Italy.

AFL President George Meany said one of "several policies" it had to discuss with Mitchell was the AFL's proposal for an increase of the present federal wage minimum of 75 cents per hour.

While Meany declined to name the other policy questions they presumably would include the AFL's announced concern over rising unemployment and means of halting an economic recession.

The council at its opening session Monday said in a statement that unemployment almost doubled during the last three months of 1953, reaching 2,359,000.

Meany declared the government is headed for "serious trouble" unless President Eisenhower comes up with a public works program or other measures to combat recession "trend."

The AFL also was seeking increased unemployment insurance benefits, additional aid for low and middle-income home buyers and tax relief for wage-earners getting less than $2,000 per year.

Former Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin, now a member of the council, was also present. As a Democratic senator in a Republican administration, Durkin did not appear before the council at its meeting here last year.

Vienna Tractor Dealer Awarded Trip to Havana In Sales Contest

A trip to sunny Havana, Cuba, is the award won by Meritt Johns of the Vienna Tractor Sales, Ford tractor dealer in Vienna, for being the top dealer in eastern Missouri and southern Illinois for the "Big Game Hunt," national sales contest conducted among Ford Tractor and Dearborn Farm Equipment dealers. The award was announced Jan. 22, at a meeting of the dealers of Midland Ford Tractor company, St. Louis Distributor, held at Henry Kiel auditorium, St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. Johns is one of 32 Ford tractor dealers from across the nation who will spend several days in Havana as guests of the Ford Tractor Division of the Ford Motor company, starting March 5, living in one of Cuba's finest hotels and enjoying the sights of the Cuban capital. The "Big Game Hunt" contest was conducted during September and October, 1953. More than 2,500 Ford tractor dealers participated.

Revocation of the driver's licenses, chauffeur's licenses or driving privileges of another 119 persons was announced yesterday at Springfield by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

Sentenced for Stealing Hog

Hayward Jones of Carrier Mills township, charged with stealing a hog, butchering it and taking it home where he and his family ate it, yesterday pleaded guilty to a petit larceny charge in county court and was sentenced to two months on the state farm at Vandalia. Arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Isham Threest and Ebert May, Jones admitted stealing the hog from Harve Rouse on Jan. 25.

Physicist Warns Spy Hysteria May Cost A-Lead

LONDON (U.P.) — A British scientist said today that United States "spy hysteria" is apt to give Russia undisputed leadership in the atomic field.

Prof. E. E. Simon of Oxford University said, "It is quite clear that recent developments in the United States are not conducive to their retaining leadership in the nuclear field."

"If someone intended to draw a red herring across the trail of atomic progress he could hardly think of anything better than creating a spy hysteria," he said.

Simon noted that this "hysteria" is dangerous for two reasons:

1. It creates a false sense of security for those who think that Russia can make progress only with the help of "stolen secrets," whereas in actuality Russia has plenty of good atom scientists of its own.

2. Super-security leads to "sterility" in America's own atom research.

Simon added that the Russians "seem to have surpassed the Americans in the output of scientists and technologists, and although nothing is known about their quality, to judge from the results it does not seem to be poor."

"The real danger," he continued, "is that the Russians may overtake the Western countries by quite legitimate means."

Simon noted that "completely free exchange of information is naturally bound to clash with what is commonly misleadingly called security."

"However," he said, "100 per cent of this kind of security means 90 per cent sterility and thus some risks have to be taken. This was, of course, a most serious matter

Council Reports 1953 One of Safest Years

CHICAGO (U.P.) — The National Safety Council reported today that the year 1953 was one of the safest on record.

The number of deaths from accidents of all types totaled 95,000—about 1,000 below 1952—and the rate of accidental deaths fell to the lowest on record, 60 deaths per 100,000 population.

The death rate in traffic accidents also hit its lowest on record—7 for every 100,000,000 miles traveled.

Altogether, there were 38,300 deaths in traffic, an increase from the 33,000 reported in 1952. However, a 5 per cent increase in mileage accounted for the decrease in the death rate.

Council President Ned H. Dearborn warned that despite the encouraging progress increased efforts must be made toward safety.

He pointed out that the death total was three times the total caused by bullets in the Korean fighting.

Besides the 95,000 persons killed during last year, he said, 9,600,000 persons were injured—1 of every 16 Americans—and accidents cost the nation $9,100,000,000 in lost wages, medical expenses, production delays, equipment and property damage, and insurance overhead.

Shoe sizes are computed in barleycorns or thirds of an inch, the estimated average length of a grain of barley.

during the early years of the boom. Now, since the Russians have caught up with the Western countries in the design of bombs, many of the regulations appear to be highly anachronistic.

"The Russians must be very pleased indeed, not only does the hysteria strike most effectively at the roots of the American atomic energy project but it also diverts attention from the real danger points.

Attorney Freed Of Confidence Game Charges

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Maurice S. Weinzelbaum, whose disappearance a year ago set off a hue and cry among his creditors, was acquitted of confidence game charges Wednesday night by a Criminal Court jury.

The jury deliberated for 3½ hours before acquitting the former attorney of a charge of using confidence game tactics in obtaining $10,000 from Marshall A. Stone, owner of a jewelry company in suburban Evanston, Ill.

Weinzelbaum still faces a second charge, involving $12,500, brought by restaurant owner George Yender.

When he disappeared about a year ago, Weinzelbaum left luxurious offices, an $800-a-month Gold Coast apartment, and a neatly typed list of 58 creditors.

During his absence, 40 creditors, including clubs, a bank, cafes and individuals, entered claims totaling $79,019 against him.

He was traced to Rio De Janeiro and finally to Houston, Tex., where he was arrested last June.

He issued a blanket denial to charges that he illegally obtained credit and said all his debts were the result of proper business transactions, not from lavish spending.

After his acquittal, Weinzelbaum announced he would enter a decorating business founded by his father.

Bull Dogs to Play Rams Here Friday Night

Fans Will See One of State's Outstanding Teams

The next opponent of the Harrisburg Bull Dog basketball team will be the No. 4 team in the state—the Mt. Vernon Rams—who are leading the South Seven conference and probably will win it.

The Rams, coached by Harold Hutchings, travel to Harrisburg for a Friday evening encounter in Hav-enport gym.

Fans will be able to see one of the outstanding teams of the state, which features three big boys—Fred Deichman, Jerry Whitlock and Goff Thompson—under the basket, and a couple of sharp shooters in Albert Avant and Richards.

Mt. Vernon has dropped but one league contest this year—to Marion—and bowed to Edwardsville in the finals of the Egyptian Holiday tournament at West Frankfort. The Rams have class spelled with a capital C.

But all the South Seven action won't be here in Harrisburg. West Frankfort travels to Marion and Benton will be host to Centralia in a league contest. Herrin, the other loop outfit, meets Johnston City in a non-conference game.

Harrisburg will be idle Saturday night. However, four conference teams will be in action, all taking on non-league foes in road games. Marion will travel to Sparta, Herrin to Carbondale, Benton to Pinckneyville and Centralia to Collinsville.

The league standings:

Team	W	L
Mt. Vernon	8	1
Herrin	5	2
Benton	4	3
Marion	4	4
Centralia	4	4
West Frankfort	1	6
Harrisburg	0	8

Latner Signs Steeler Contract

PITTSBURGH (U.P.) — The Pittsburgh Steelers today announced the signing of Johnny Latner, Notre Dame's "bread and butter" half-back.

The announcement was made by Steelco Publicity Director Ed Kieley after a telephone conversation with Coach Joe Bach who signed Latner in South Bend, Ind.

Frank Leahy, recently resigned coach of Notre Dame, pronounced Latner the "bread and butter" player of the undefeated Irish squad of 1953.

Latner passed up a chance to play Canadian football to accept the Steeler contract. Terms were not disclosed.

"I've heard nothing but good things about Pittsburgh," Latner said.

The 195-pound halfback from Chicago was the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice at the National Football league meetings last week. Five other teams passed up Latner before the Steelers chose him. The other teams feared that a shoulder injury suffered by Latner in the East-West game would be a liability in pro football.

But Latner told Bach that the injury healed.

Walking Dog Program Approved By State Jaycees

The board of directors of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce gave the go-ahead sign to the Walking Dog Foundation, Inc., on Sunday morning, Jan. 31, in the final session of their quarterly meeting when they voted to adopt the Walking Dog program and support it as a statewide project.

Further encouragement was given to the program by Richard G. Matheson, Renton, Wash., who is one of the 10 national vice presidents in the United States and attended the state board meeting over the week end. He stated the Walking Dog project could develop into a national Jaycee program with all-out effort.

Starting as a project of the Carbondale Jaycees after learning of this work through a meeting with Southern Illinois Incorporated, the Walking Dog Foundation was incorporated as a non-profit organization to train and supply dogs for the blind. Since the issuance of a state charter on Sept. 25, 1953, the plans have steadily grown and promise now with this latest development to really get rolling in earnest and mushroom to a vast program with nation-wide interest. Interested parties may contact the Walking Dog Foundation at its headquarters in Carbondale.

High Price of Coffee Stimulates Tea Sales

CHICAGO (U.P.) — A national distributor of coffee and tea reported today that sales of tea were up 5 to 20 per cent across the country during the last three weeks.

The distributor, who asked his name be withheld, was among several local food dealers who said that tea sales have been stimulated by recent jumps in the price of coffee.

A dental expert said tea contains fluorides, the chemical compounds that are sometimes added to water supplies to help prevent tooth decay.

But the expert, Dr. J. R. Doty, secretary of the Council on Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental Assn., said the value of the tea fluorides is "problematical."

Only 3 Major Unbeaten Teams After Fordham Trips Connecticut, 70-63

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Fordham's impressive defeat of Connecticut left only three major unbeaten basketball teams in the nation today—and two of those put their perfect records on the firing line tonight.

Connecticut, which had won 14 straight games to stamp itself as one of New England's most powerful teams, found itself simply out-gunned and its star player, Art Quimby, badly outplayed by Fordham's big Ed Conlin Wednesday night in the 70-63 defeat at the Fordham gym.

As a result, Kentucky (14-0), Western Kentucky (20-0), and Duquesne (18-0) stand alone as the unbeaten elite among major colleges. And Kentucky must face Georgia tonight while Western Kentucky plays Seton.

Tournament Possibility

Quimby, the nation's leading rebounder and a 16-points-per-game scorer, carried Connecticut's main hopes Wednesday night into the UConn's toughest test so far this season. Those hopes were dashed because Conlin, last year's rebound champion, not only grabbed 23 rebounds to Quimby's 16 but also scored 30 points on a dazzling assortment of shots to Quimby's modest seven points. Conlin took 19 shots and sank 13; Quimby took seven shots and sank two.

Though the game re-established Fordham (13-2) as a red-hot tournament possibility, it left the UConn's chances of a post-season bid also extremely strong.

Fordham is interested only in a berth in the NCAA tourney, but Connecticut is believed receptive either to an NCAA bid or an offer from the National Invitation Tournament.

Notre Dame Beats Butler

Notre Dame, ranked eighth nationally and also a strong NCAA possibility, scored its seventh straight victory in easy fashion Wednesday night, 95-58, over Butler at South Bend, Ind. Joe Bertrand led the Irish scoring with 26 points as Notre Dame recorded its 18th straight home court win and ran its season record to 11 victories in 13 games.

Two teams tied in the national rankings for the No. 18 spot fared differently in other games. Bradley was upset by Tulsa, 66-63, while Louisville scored its sixth straight victory as expected, 104-57, over John Carroll.

In the Northern Division of the Pacific Coast conference, pace-making Oregon was upset by Washington State, 74-68. That means second-place Oregon State can gain a tie for the lead by beating Washington State both on Friday night and Saturday night.

Other Games
In other leading games Wednesday night: Johnny Clune scored 33 points and Don Lange 29 to lead Navy to its highest score of the season, 108-73, over Pittsburgh; Colgate snapped an eight-game losing streak by upsetting Army, 80-72; Sampson Air Force Base upset Cornell, 84-71; Wagner upset St. John's, N. Y., 69-61; Yale beat Brown, 74-66, in the Ivy league; Seton Hall downed Albright, 75-61; Harvard shaded Amherst, 56-51; Penn State beat Gettysburg, 64-51; St. Francis (N.Y.) pushed its record to 15-3 by beating Siena, 51-47; Virginia edged VMI, 78-76; and West Virginia crushed Virginia Tech, 111-68.

Ward, KO'd by Troy, Becomes Ring Sensation

DETROIT (U.P.) — Young Moses Ward of Detroit was a national ring sensation today although he had suffered an eighth-round knockout Wednesday night in his magnificent nationally televised middle-weight battle with Willie Troy of Washington, D. C.

Ward, 21, was little known and a 6-1 underdog when he entered the ring at the Olympia for his first widely televised bout. But his aggressive hooking attack against contender Troy brought about one of the grandest battles ever staged for TV.

Mauling Moses went down for the count in the eighth from the combined effects of exhaustion and a series of short punches to the head. The kayo was timed at 2:42.

Troy, also 21 and ranked ninth among the world's contenders, weighed 159 pounds to Ward's 161.

Ward and Troy battled so furiously and persistently in every round that Referee Lou Jallous never had to separate them, for there wasn't a single clinch. In the first round, Ward's booming hooks to the head appeared destined to stop Troy. And that threat loomed again and again during the see-saw fight until Ward began to tire in the fifth round.

In the fifth session, Ward slipped to the canvas when he missed a punch. There was no knockdown until the eighth when Ward went down for the count.

Troy registered his 26th victory and 20th knockout in 27 professional bouts. It was Ward's second defeat in 21 fights.

Two Freshman Cage Games With Benton at Davenport Gym Tonight

Two freshmen basketball games with Benton will be played at Davenport gymnasium tonight. At 6:30 inexperienced freshmen from the two schools will meet, after which the regular freshman teams will play.

Webster's Blue Back Speller was a standard text in early schools. It did much to establish uniform spelling of words.

House Passes Bill Providing 30 New Judges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed legislation Wednesday to provide 30 additional judges and give some old judges now serving a chance to retire immediately with full pay.

The measure was approved by voice vote. It is a compromise of differences between bills passed last year by House and Senate and must be approved by the Senate before going to the White House.

The measure would give President Eisenhower his first chance to appoint a large number of judges.

Republicans in 1952 succeeded in blocking congressional approval of a similar bill which would have allowed former President Truman to make the lifetime appointments.

The legislation would seek to open up additional vacancies through voluntary retirement. It would allow retirement at 65 with full pay after 15 years' service. This would be in addition to the present law allowing retirement at 70 after 10 years' service.

VFW to Hold District Meeting At Carmi Feb. 6-7

A meeting of the 15th Illinois V. F. W. District will be held Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 6 and 7, in Carmi, it was announced this week by Ernest Witsman, 202 1/2 East Main, Olney, 15th district commander.

Distinguished guest at the meeting will be Roy Lechner, 100 Herbert avenue, Carmi, who is junior vice commander of the Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Witsman said that more than 150 officials of V. F. W. posts from southern Illinois are expected to attend.

The 10th district commander said all activities will occur at White County Post 3851, post headquarters, East Main street, Carmi.

The schedule follows:
Feb. 6: 9 a. m. Public dance.
Feb. 7: 9 a. m. Post and Ladies' Auxiliary delegates will register; 10 a. m. joint session to be opened by the address of welcome by the Carmi mayor, introduction of distinguished guests and short speech by Commander Lechner; 11:30 a. m. recess for dinner; 1:30 p. m. the 10th District meeting will resume while the District Ladies' Auxiliary meets at Washington school.

WSIL-TV Film Tonight To Commemorate Half Century of Aviation

Commemorating the 50th anniversary of powered flight, WSIL-TV will present a one-hour feature film, "We Saw It Happen," tonight from 8:00 until 9:00 on channel 22.

The headline events of a half-century of aviation are depicted in the action-packed documentary film, including the first powered flights, crossing the Atlantic by the NC-4, Lindbergh's solo flight, and many other historic aviation events.

To make room for this stirring film, the regular evening feature, "Armchair Adventure" has been removed from tonight's program schedule. Family Playhouse will be seen from 9:00 until 10:00, and the station will remain on the air until 10:15 p. m., in order to present the Final Edition newscast.

'54 Polio Season May Be Most Difficult Yet Despite Hope of Victory with Vaccine

By CURTIS F. CULP, M. D.
Director of Medical Services
National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

(Written for NEA Service)

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Like soldiers who go into battle the day before an armistice, 45,000,000 children under 15—and many of their elders—will risk the threat of infantile paralysis this year.

They will face that threat while we are almost in sight of victory with a trial vaccine.

For while polio prevention, the theme of the 1954 March of Dimes, signaled the opening of a fourth front on the all-out fight against infantile paralysis, the 1954 polio season may be the most difficult one we have ever had to face.

Adding depth and substance to the tangible hope for scientific control of this disease, the new program gives inspiration and impetus to the thousands of volunteers across the country now participating in the January month-long campaign.

The American people have accepted the challenge of raising 26,500,000 to finance this single program, in addition to the millions needed to assure continuation of research, patient care and professional education programs sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Vaccine validity tests are scheduled to mark the winter months ahead. It is particularly important, therefore, to realize that, even if these tests prove scientifically successful, the vaccine cannot stem the tide of inevitable polio attack we must be prepared to face next spring and summer.

At best we may hope for the temporary protection made possible by a tripled supply of gamma globulin, the scarce blood derivative which the National Foundation will make available this year through the Office of Defense Mobilization.

But, as harrowing as the polio fight will be for those born too soon to benefit from a vaccine if it is proven effective, we are at least better prepared to cope with this epidemic disease.

Just a few years ago, a small epidemic in a single town could bring chaos. There were seldom enough hospitals or trained medical personnel or special equipment to meet the ordeal. In fact, in 1938 only 300 hospitals in the entire country would admit acute polio cases.

Last year, a record-breaking 88,000 polio patients had the security of prompt and complete care. The heartbreak of unpreparedness has been eliminated. We will be even better prepared in 1954.

Within 24 hours, iron lungs and other vital equipment can be rushed to a stricken area from one of six depots the National Foundation maintains across the country. New treatment centers have been established and thousands of physical therapists, doctors, nurses and medical social workers have been trained through March of Dimes funds. The number of hospitals that will admit polio patients has risen from 300 to 1500 in 16 years.

"We have no hospital problem," a National Foundation representative in Minnesota was able to report, when he alerted me last June at the start of a polio epidemic which eventually gave that state the highest case rate in the nation for the second consecutive year.

This preparedness was the one happy aspect, and it continued as word of the Minnesota epidemic grew increasingly grim. The demand on facilities was heavy and unpredictable. One Minneapolis hospital reported 100 polio patients on Aug. 14; three days later the figure had jumped to 219.

TEMPORARY PROTECTION from polio brought a smile to the face of Marcia Boyd, 7 1/2, as she got a gamma globulin injection from Dr. David B. Minsky in Montgomery, Ala., last July. This year a tripled supply of gamma globulin will be available.

The National Foundation answered rush calls for 69 respirators, 12 hot pack machines and 22 rocking beds to supplement the supply already on hand. Epidemic aid funds sent to Minnesota by the National Foundation totaled $1,000,000.

There is no way of measuring the comfort which this security brought to patients and their families. One can only compare them to the beleaguered people of Hickory, N. C., during their big epidemic siege of 1944. In a gallant but agonizing battle, they set up tent wards, then built an emergency hospital in 54 hours while the disease raged through the community.

It is almost as difficult to measure the long-term benefits of our advance. There is still no cure for polio, once it has caused its destruction of nerve cells.

But today the crippling deformities of polio are no longer considered inevitable. Thousands more are helped to find their way to maximum use of the muscles and nerves which are left.

In National Foundation-supported respirator centers throughout the nation, iron lung patients rally one another to the fight. From studying them together, medical people are learning new advances in treatment and today they can wean 70 per cent of these patients from all respirator aids. These developments, and the fact that 50 per cent of all polio patients recover completely, are good to keep in mind in this tantalizing period of near-victory.

Freedom Balloons Will Fill Skies Feb. 12

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For flying saucer-watchers, star-gazers and others prone to heavenly observance, Feb. 12 ought to be a red-letter day.

According to the Crusade For Freedom, more than 4000 balloons will be released on Abraham Lincoln's birthday from about 500 communities in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. The reason: these are models of the Freedom Balloons that have been turned loose in the strong west wind to carry messages of hope to prisoners behind the Iron Curtain.

In the United States, the project belongs to the Fraternal Order of Eagles and will open Crusade For Freedom Week. Each balloon launched will carry freedom messages, an envelope and letters from top F. O. E. officers.

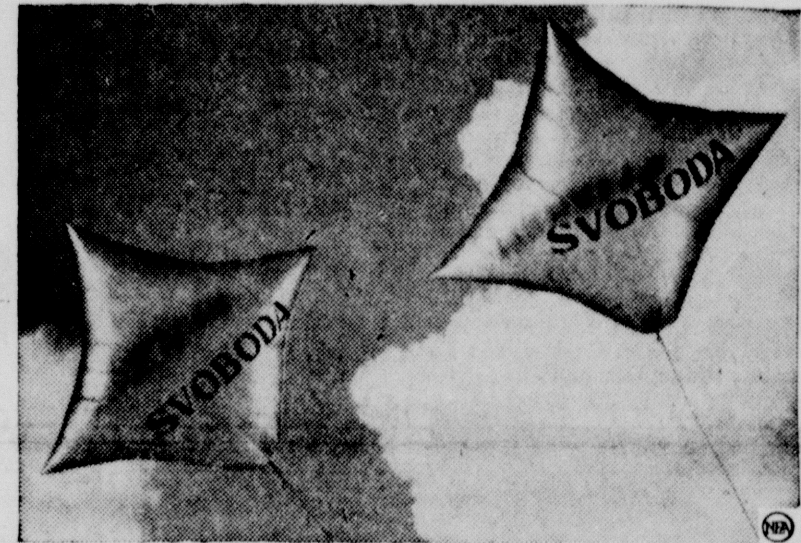

The messages will ask the finders to help the Crusade forward in encouraging the "Soviet-oppressed peoples behind the Iron Curtain."

In Europe, the balloons have been launched by the Crusade and aimed primarily at Central Slovakia. The spheres are of two kinds: those that drift until they descend and others that explode and scatter their messages broadcast.

"Know this," the message says in part, "Power lies with the people and the people stand oppressed. With unity and courage, organize your strength."

Balloon messages have met with strong opposition by the Red governments. MIG-15 Russian-built jets have attacked the helium-filled sacs. Their record: two downed, others missing.

But prisoners back from the tyranny of Eastern Europe report the messages have come through, along with the voices of Radio Free Europe which works with Crusade For Freedom.

ON FREEDOM'S WIND: Balloons like these will fly over the U. S. Feb. 12 to open Crusade for Freedom Week. These two were some of the many launched in Europe to carry freedom messages across the Iron Curtain into Czechoslovakia.

In addition, Red propagandists have given official status to the freedom balloons and radio broadcasts by arguing with each point by point. They have no longer been able to jam the radio transmitters, which now total 22.

Back in the United States, the F. O. E. and the Crusade are working together on the balloon project to bring more dramatically to the American people the fact that they have a part to play in the cold war.

Other organizations, too, are helping to bring the Crusade's treasury up to the brim. Junior

County Share of Proposed Budget Is $11,765,000

Saline county's share of the $65.6 billion federal budget for fiscal 1955, proposed last week by President Eisenhower in his message to Congress, amounts to $11,765,000, according to figures compiled by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The estimate of the county's share of proposed federal spending was released by M. A. Buettell, chairman of the State Chamber's federal taxation committee and vice president of Ideal Industries, Sycamore.

Basis for the estimate was an analysis of federal tax collections and income data showing that Illinoisans pay 7.66 per cent of the total costs of federal government. This means Illinois' share of the proposed 1955 budget will be $5,024,960,000. This figure then was distributed into county shares, according to indices of buying power and sales tax collections.

Buettell noted that the proposed 1955 budget is $5.3 billion less than estimated expenditures for fiscal 1954 and pointed to this as a favorable sign. "But despite the reduction," he said, "Illinois' share of the 1955 budget will be seven times the total of all property taxes paid in Illinois last year for the operation of counties, cities, schools and all other units of local government."

Saline county's share of the proposed 1955 budget is calculated at 7.6 times the total of all local property taxes paid in the county in 1953, the State Chamber's figures show.

"While some tax cuts have been possible," Buettell declared, "there is need for additional reduction. Further cuts in spending must be made to provide for still lower taxes and to bring the federal budget into balance.

"For each billion dollars by which the budget is reduced," he concluded, "Illinois saves almost $77 million."

Beauty, Comfort in Summer Play Shoes

Here's a preview of the shoes you will be wearing next summer for fun in the sun. They're going along on winter vacations right now, are lightweight and easy to pack. Natural colored raffia (upper left) has red band across the vamp, comes with flexible cork-and-crepe sole that cushions the foot. Washable braid in multi-color (upper right) makes sandal that has straps over the instep to give it firm fit. Denim, important in other fashions for resort wear, makes its appearance here, too. Slip-on (lower left) is charcoal denim with soft cushion insole and lightweight, thick corrugated rubber-and-cork sole. New indoor-outdoor style (lower right) comes in a number of colors, each with white awning stripe vamp. This washable shoe has natural crepe sole.—By Gail Dugas, NEA Woman's Editor.

First Christian Loyal Daughters Class Meets

The February meeting of the Loyal Daughters class of the First Christian church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Leonard Gooden.

Mrs. Claude Parker, president, opened the meeting by asking the members to repeat in unison the scripture verse, first Corinthians 2:2, which is the slogan for 12 weeks for Christ's crusade. Roll call was answered with the Bible verses containing the word love. Each verse was written on a red paper heart.

A beautiful devotion was given by Mrs. Robert Kennedy from the scripture "Blessed are the Pure in Heart." The members softly sang "Come Into My Heart, Lord Jesus."

The year books were given out, and projects for the year were discussed, but no immediate action was taken. The members signed several cards which were to be sent to those listed as sick. The names of inactive members were drawn by the members attending as a visitation program.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Miss Bess Pemberton. The members were entertained by Mrs. Frank Borders and Mrs. Parker, who conducted contests.

Mrs. Laura Rice, Mrs. Joe Harris and Mrs. Wayne Brackney received prizes.

A highlight of the evening was the picture gallery. Each member

Beta Kappa Chapter Hears Talk On Drama, Readings

The members of Beta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night, Feb. 1, at the public library.

Mrs. Lolo Eddy presented a talk on drama and talked of the three great periods, Roman, Elizabethan, and Contemporary. Myra Burnam gave a few acts from the play entitled "Burying the Dead," and Judy Belt gave a reading entitled "Arsenic and Old Lace."

During the business session the chapter voted to have an informal spring rushing season and for this a series of Coke and coffee dates, the first being at the home of Mrs. Jack Oats Saturday, Feb. 6, at 3 p. m.

It was decided to donate $25 to international funds which included girls' town, cancer fund and endowment fund.

brought her baby picture unidentified for the rest of the group to guess. Mrs. Rice's picture was the most popular.

Mrs. Parker assisted Mrs. Gooden in serving sherbet and cookies as refreshments.

Others present were Mrs. Blake Johnson, Mrs. A. L. Lightfoot, Mrs. A. C. Parks, Mrs. Frelan Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Noakes, Mrs. Myrtle Adams, Mrs. Bess Hagler and Mrs. James Ferrell.

McKinley Junior B. W. C. Has Royal Service Program

"Meeting the Need of the Migrant" was the title of the Royal Service program presented at a meeting held Tuesday evening by members of the Junior Business Women's circle of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Miss Raenelle Lavender, who resides on South Main street, was hostess at the meeting which was attended by Mrs. Joe Harris, Miss Myrna Seats, Miss Norma Cannon, Mrs. Denzil Simpson, Mrs. Ken Ozmert, Miss Jewell Agin, Mrs. Doyle Hedger and Miss Jane Cannon.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Ozmert, and the evening's program was in charge of Miss Jane Cannon. Telling of the vast number of people who move from one section of the country to another wherever seasonal or occasional workers are needed, the lesson stated in part that "much of America is on the move and they are leaving God behind." Topics were given by Mrs. Simpson, Miss Seats and Miss Agin.

Prayer by the hostess closed the devotional period, following which Miss Norma Cannon conducted a short business session.

During a social hour refreshments in keeping with Valentine's day were served by Miss Lavender, and the group spent the remainder of the meeting preparing Valentine favors to be used on hospital trays.

UP Correspondent Commended by 25th Division

SEOUL — United Press War Correspondent Frank Jordan has been commended by the U. S. 25th Infantry Division for "unusual courage" in covering one of the final combat actions of the Korean fighting in July, 1953.

A letter of commendation from the division public information officer, Capt. James A. McKay, cited Jordan for disregarding his personal safety and exhibiting "considerable journalism talent" in obtaining facts on the battle of "San Juan Hill" July 22, five days before the cease fire.

"Throughout the fighting in Korea," the letter said, "Frank Jordan of United Press earned an excellent reputation for his first-hand coverage of front line news.

"A particularly outstanding example of his work occurred during the final week of the fighting.

"On July 22, 1953, in the Kum-sung salient area of the 2nd ROK Corps, Jordan disregarded his personal safety to obtain the facts as two ROK divisions struggled with the Communists in hand-to-hand combat for possession of Hill 652, better known as San Juan Hill.

"Within 500 yards of the enemy and under enemy observation and mortar fire, Jordan gathered his news stories. To those of us who witnessed his actions that day, Jordan exhibited unusual courage as well as considerable journalism talent."

Pierre LaCade came to Fort de Chartres (Illinois) to establish a mercantile business in 1763. Learning that the Illinois Territory had been ceded to the English, he wintered in the fort and went farther upriver the next spring to establish a trading post that became St. Louis.
